

Dear ESAM Members,

It is with great pleasure that I announce my candidacy to continue serving as the Treasurer of ESAM. Over the past two years, I have had the honor of managing the finances of our organization, during which we have seen significant positive developments. This success has been largely due to the membership contributions and the ICAM Congress, which have strengthened our financial standing.

During my tenure, I have worked closely with ESAM's committee members to ensure transparency and efficiency in our financial operations. I am eager to build on this momentum and further support aerospace medicine in Europe.

In addition to my role at ESAM, I am an Anaesthesiologist at the University Hospital Leipzig, Germany. My research interests focus on Aerospace Medicine and Emergency Medicine, particularly under extreme environmental conditions. I am also a proud member of the research group at the Department of Anaesthesiology and Intensive Care Medicine at the University Hospital Bochum/Minden as well as the Innovation Center Computer Assisted Surgery in Leipzig.

ESAM represents a unique collaboration of experts and friends who share common professional interests. Working here is driven by conviction and appreciation, and I hope to have earned your trust and support to continue contributing to our society.

Yours sincerely,

Felix Liebold
