Additional information	Specialization in ophthalmology started for the Institute of Aviation (IAM) Medicine, where I am closely involved in aviation ophthalmology. For several years, as an ophthalmologist IAM, I participated in the examinations of aviation personnel as well as in the assessment of the health capacity of military and civilian pilots. I also participated in the selection process for aviation personnel. As an ophthalmologist, I was part of the working group that dealt with the drafting of regulations for aviation personnel. By the decision of the Civil Aviation Agency of July 9, 2009, I was appointed as a member of the second-level Commission for issuing Category 1 Certificates. For years, I have been a lecturer at the Postgraduate course in Ophthalmology at the Faculty of Medicine, University of Zagreb, where I teach topics from the field of aviation as part of Occupational Ophthalmology. I also participated as a lecturer in the training for renewing knowledge in aviation medicine organized by the Croatian Civil Aviation Agency. Since 1996, I am a lecturer at aviation medicine courses according to the AMC program, FCL 3.090 (JAR-FCL 3.090) in the Republic of Croatia and abroad, organized by the Croatian Civil Aviation Agency. Published a number of scientific and professional works, some of them in excellent international journals cited in Current Contents. Citation in the Science Citation Index. Participation in a number of international and domestic scientific and professional meetings. Member of the editorial board: Ophthalmologia Croatica. Reviewer for journals: Collegium Antropologicum, Medica Jadertina. Active participation as a moderator and lecturer at domestic and international scientific and professional meetings. Since 1999, she has been appointed as a permanent forensic medical expert at the County Court in Zagreb.
